Mobile banking will soon be the very face of banking

How often do you find an entry "go to the bank" in your daily to-do list? Very rarely or probably never. It's out of fashion these days to make a visit to your bank, wait in a queue, fill up forms, and follow their complex processes. Read the entire article by Smita Aggarwal on the future of banking.

Upcoming Events

Program on Implementation of Advanced Approaches (IRB) of Basel II December 23-24, 2014

The objective of the program is to help the bankers to develop IRB credit risk models. The program will also give guidance on arriving at probability of default (PD), loss given default (LGD) and EAD numbers on the loan asset of a banker. It will also throw light on assessment of the correlation factor amongst borrowings and borrowers. From regulators point of view, the program will give feedback regarding various valuation methods.

Program on Project and Infrastructure Financing by Banks

January 12-14, 2015

The objective of the program is to equip the participants with effective credit appraisal skills with project and infrastructure financing proposals. They should be able to appreciate and understand the credit risk inherent in such lending.
